

SERVICE FEES & PRICING GUIDE

NEN | National Education Network | site.nen-global.org

Effective date: 13 October 2026

1. Purpose

NEN collaborates with international examination, certification, training, and technology providers. This guide directs customers to provider websites for information about available examinations, training programs and published fees, and explains how to request a quotation for other NEN services.

2. Examination, Certification & Training Fees

For examinations, certifications and standard training products, please visit the relevant provider's official website below to review available products and any published examination or training fees. Some providers publish prices only during registration, after selecting a country or testing location, or through authorized partners. If fees are not available online, contact NEN for assistance.

3. Custom Services and B2B Pricing

For software development, IT solutions, systems integration, consulting, academic and document verification, customized training, institutional examination arrangements, and other B2B or project-based services, fees are determined individually. Please contact NEN to describe your requirements and request a commercial quotation.

4. Final Prices and Payment

Provider websites are supplied for information. Any published provider fee is indicative only and may differ from the final amount quoted or charged by NEN due to location, product selection, commercial arrangements, currency, applicable taxes and payment-related fees. Customers should confirm the final payable amount with NEN before purchase.

5. Contact NEN

For current prices, product availability, group purchases or customized service quotations, please use the Finance Contacts section of the NEN Global Payment Portal or NEN's official contact channels.
